SECTION C: FOOD SECURITY AND HUNGER (from USDA HFSS)

INTRODUCTION: Some questions in this next set of questions may seem hard to answer or ask about sensitive things. We are doing this survey to gather important information so we can understand whether these issues need more attention among groups of women who are HIV-infected or at risk for HIV.

First, I will ask you some questions about possible problems or challenges getting enough food in your household, and whether you were able to afford the food you need. Many people in the United States have trouble affording the food they need. We hope to use your answers to help prevent this problem and to help address it in the future. Please remember, we won't share your answers with anyone else and you can refuse to answer any question.

I will now read you several statements that people have made about their food situation. For these statements, please tell me whether the statement was often true, sometimes true, or never true for your household in the last six months. If you are the only person in your household, "your household," "we," or "our" refers just to you.
