1. Add a general introduction to the beginning of the form: “You will notice that some questions may have been added to or deleted from the interview. Please listen for changes as WIHS investigators continue to revise questions to reflect what is currently important to our understanding of women and HIV.”
2. Add probe to question B8: “(PROBE: For instance, if your children are not in school and are in your direct care all of the time, your response would be 24 hours per day. If the children go to school and/or you work, and thus you care for them only during hours when they are not in school and you are not at work, your response might be something like 16 hours per day. If you care for someone else’s children while they work Monday through Friday, your response might be 40 hours total per week.)”
3. Delete portion of introduction to question B22: Delete “Do you have any questions before we go on?”
